Bajaj Pulsar 135 Is The GoodByeTraffic Bike

Thanks to satan69in from xbhp.com we can finally conclude that Bajaj has lost their mind altogether. We mean what's the need of launching a 135cc version of the Pulsar but Bajaj thinks otherwise. The new Bajaj Pulsar will get a 135 DTS-Si mill which is straight lift out of its younger sibling. Along with clip on handle bars, gas charged rear shock absorbers, LED tail lights, rear set foot pegs and little weird looking dimensions, the new Pulsar is sure to beat traffic if priced correctly, which it mostly will.
