Dodge Tomahawk Replica

Do you remember the Dodge Tomahawk. The bike which claimed to do over 550kmph with its 8.3L V10 engine producing 500HP from the Dodge Viper. It could reach a 100kmph in less than 1 second. Yes its that quick. Its now back, not the original but in the form of a replica. So it certainly wont be even half as quick, but then it looks the part.

Chinese being Chinese have copied the cosmetics and this replica uses a 150cc engine producing 10HP and is being sold at $1398. Highly overpriced for a 150cc machine. Here is the place where its listed.
