

Published based on Ducati India To Expand Operations In 2010

Ducati India To Expand Operations In 2010

Ducati is looking to expand its operations in the country as it plans to sell over 150 bikes next year. The Italian bikes are priced from a humble 14 lakhs upto a not so humble 60 lakhs. Ducati in partnership with Precision Motor India Private Limited just announced the opening of its second dealership outlet in Gurgaon. The first showroom was inaugurated in Mumbai last month. The company is looking to open four dealerships next year in addition to the existing two. The company hopes bike enthusiasts will overlook the cost factor while buying their superbikes which have engine capacities in the range of 500-2500cc.

You can also find this article published on Ducati India To Expand Operations In 2010, and on the tag pages Ducati.