Honda 110cc Bike Is The CB Twister

When Honda arrives in any segment, it does with style and the 100cc segment is no different. Their next bike, a 110cc commuter is christened the CB Twister (snapped by BSMotoring) and carries the philosophy of style, features and a high price tag forward from the CBF Stunner. The CB Twister boasts of some never seen before features in a 100-125cc segment bike including six spoke alloy rims, disc brakes, stylish exhaust, split grab rails, open chain, non-functional air scoops and glossy paint. This bike will see its national launch at the upcoming Auto Expo in January, 2010.
