Honda Motorcycle and Scooter India unveiled six new models at the 10th Auto Expo. The company expects sales to grow by 17% this fiscal to cross 1.25 million units. The company plans to sell 1.5 million units next fiscal, targeting a growth of over 20%. The bulk of the six models are for mass production, and includes the 102cc Dio scooter, 110cc CB Twister and the 125cc CBF Stunner. The Japanese two-wheeler giant also displayed its global superbike VSR 1200F (with dual clutch technology) and the new 2010 CBR 1000RR Fireblade equipped with ABS technology. They also had some awesome demonstrations on safety by Spanish riders (pictures of this to follow in another post).
