Hero Honda To Launch New Karizma

Did Hero Honda miss the party? Sure it did, but better late than never. Hero Honda is testing the new Karizma (pic courtesy of autobild) which is expected to go on sale by September. The new Karizma boasts of new front fairing, new side and tail pieces, hunk like rear mudguard, rear disc brake, gas charged rear shock absorbers along with increased power and torque. Whether the bike will carry fuel injection or not, that only time will tell but we are expecting serious competition for the Bajaj Pulsar 220.
