HH Halts White ZMR Production

Recently we posted about how the Hero Honda ZMR is having a waiting period of six months and the company is not really bothered. We tried to find out more what the issue was and have got news that there is some issue with white colour in the ZMR. Apparently the white colour on the Karizma ZMR does not last that well so the company has stopped production of white ZMRs from May itself. Thus if you go to a dealer to get a ZMR in white, he will straight away tell you to wait for six months!
