Suzuki Lanza 150cc

After launching some plane-jane bikes, Suzuki is finally planning to launch a 150cc bike in September. As seen in the picture, it does look good. This bike will be called Lanza (What kind of a name is that anyway) and will sport a 6 speed transmission.

It resembles the Hunk to a great extent, which isint a bad thing. This bike will follow the trend of the 150cc segment and will have front disc brakes, digital instrumentation, LED tail lamps and some muscle. Now my question to Suzuki is - Gixxer where are thou?
