TVS Talks About ABS

The TVS Apache model with ABS has been long time coming and the latest updates by TVS on its Apache fan page on facebook suggests the Apache ABS is just around the corner. TVS Motors has started talking about ABS on it fan page. The company has asked its fans on facebook to be patient and asked them about experiences where they wished they had ABS. TVS would like to educate the masses about how ABS actually helps before launching the Apache ABS.

"Hi Guys, We know you are eagerly awaiting the launch of Apache with ABS. Through this week, we will talk about ABS Technology, how it helps. And about the bike, dont ask us anything right now!!! We'll make sure you guys are the first to know about the launch, the works...everything," TVS Motors wrote on facebook.
