

Published based on SC Allows TVS To Manufacture Flame

SC Allows TVS To Manufacture Flame

The Supreme Court has allowed TVS to manufacture TVS Flame, the 125-cc bike sporting twin-spark plugs, the technology for which Bajaj Auto claims it holds the patent rights. However, it did not permit TVS to move its "finished product (motorcycle) from its warehouse" after the company gave an undertaking in this regard. Which just means that TVS can manufacture the Flame, but they can't sell it. God bless our judicial system.

"Both parties are restrained from using this order for any other purposes including publicity," the Bench said while posting the matter for the next hearing in the first week in August. The order came on a petition filed by Bajaj Auto Ltd challenging the Madras High Court's ruling that permitted TVS to use twin-spark plugs in its motorcycles.

You can also find this article published on SC Allows TVS To Manufacture Flame, and on the tag pages TVS.