The Yamaha R15 has successfully become the most sort after performance bike in the country. Yamaha recently upgraded the bike to Version 2.0 and at the same time disappointed quite a few fans, who were looking for more power. However K&N, the maker of performance filters for most vehicles has launched a stock replacement filter specially designed for the R15. The K&N filter fits both the old and new Yamaha R15 and claims to increase performance and fuel efficiency by close to 7%. Furthermore, the filter maker also offers a Million mile limited warranty. The prices are yet to be revealed but we expect it to be similar to the filter for the Bajaj Pulsar. Expect the K&N filter for the Yamaha R15 to cost around Rs. 2700/-.
