

Published based on Aston Martin Drives In This Friday

Aston Martin Drives In This Friday

Aston Martin has confirmed the launch of its range of supercars in India on the 15th of April, that is just three days away. The company will unveil the super cars at the Trident Hotel. Details of the Aston Martin cars are yet to be revealed but we expect prices to start at around Rs. 1 crore, going all the way to Rs. 3 crore. Performance cars is the Indian partner for Aston Martin. You might recollect Infinity cars, the famous BMW dealer, which is owned by the same firm. Top officials will be present at the launch and we expect more supercar makers to enter India after seeing the luxury car segment heating up.

You can also find this article published on Aston Martin Drives In This Friday, and on the tag pages Aston Martin.