

Published based on Audi A7

Audi A7

The Audi A7 is a four door coupe and is Audi's response to the Mercedes CLS. With growing competition in the four door coupe segment, Audi thought they too make a car for this segment. VWs Passat CC is the another car which is a four door coupe.

The Audi A7 will arrive with the second generation of Audi's MMI cabin control system. Under the skin is a stretched version of the platform which underpins the A5 coupe. Wide range of engines will be available: a trio of V6 diesels, including an all new 3.0 liter twin turbocharged unit, as well as V6 and V8 petrol engines.

You can also find this article published on Audi A7, and on the tag pages Audi A7.