

Published based on Bugatti Veyron To Set Indian Roads Ablaze

Bugatti Veyron To Set Indian Roads Ablaze

Volkswagen is all set to get one of the worlds fastest machine onto Indian roads with the launch of the Bugatti brand in the country next year. The French company which currently produces only the Veyron was taken over by Volkswagen and the rest as they say is history. The supercar has a record of sorts with 1001hp of power on tap and capability to nudge past 400kmph. As always, nothing in life comes cheap and the Veyron is set to cost a cool Rs. 8 crores thanks to it being imported and the unfavourable EXIM policies. Now only if we have the necessary infrastructure to drive these cars. Wishful thinking, you bet.

You can also find this article published on Bugatti Veyron To Set Indian Roads Ablaze, and on the tag pages Bugatti Veyron.