

Published based on Chevrolet Beat Spy Pictures

Chevrolet Beat Spy Pictures

The Chevrolet Beat is only a few months away from launch and confirming that is Carwale who recently spotted the car with a bit of camouflage. Though not much can be said at this moment but few noticeable things include rear door handles on the C-pillar to make the car look like a 3 door hatchback. The test car seems to be equipped with 155/70/R14 tires which will give the car a good blend of ride and handling. The headlights seem to be modified from the Hyundai i10. GM is expected to launch the car by the end of this year.

You can also find this article published on Chevrolet Beat Spy Pictures, and on the tag pages Chevrolet Beat.