

Published based on Sachin Tendulkar Sells His Ferrari 360

Sachin Tendulkar Sells His Ferrari 360

Sachin Tendulkar has sold off his Ferrari to a Surat based businessman. The ace batsman received the Italian sports car as a gift from 7-time world F1 champion Michael Schumacher on behalf of Fiat India for equaling Don Bradman's 29 Test century record. The Ferrari 360 Modena, which was gifted in 2002 got into controversy in 2003 from customs, but was cleared after the finance minister waved off the 1.13 crore duty on the car. The price at which Sachin has sold his car has not been revealed, nor has the replacement to the scarlet car disclosed. What could replace Sachin's Ferrari in his garage?

"I have bought the 360 Modena Ferrari car directly from Sachin Tendulkar with all legal documents. It was my dream to drive a Ferrari and now my dream has come true," Jayesh Desai, Chairman of Raj Hans group, said.

You can also find this article published on Sachin Tendulkar Sells His Ferrari 360, and on the tag pages Ferrari, News.