Fiat India plans to take on the Honda City head on with the launch of a more powerful Linea. The current Linea is powered by a 1.3L Multijet diesel which many find underpowered. Thus Fiat is taking corrective actions by launching a higher powered diesel version of Linea at the upcoming Auto Expo in New Delhi. Though there is no confirmation on whether the Fiat Linea will get a 1.6 or 1.9 Multijet, we think its the former. The car is expected to cost Rs. 11 lakhs.
