Ford Figo 1.5 Could Soon Be A Reality

Earlier this week, we had speculated the possibility of a bigger Ford Figa, probably with the 2011 Fiesta's engine. Now Ford has hinted that it could be a reality. When asked about the huge gap between the Figa and the Fiesta Classic, the company responded by telling us that they are working on something to fit it between them. Could it be the Figa 1.5 Diesel with 90hp of power and 204Nm of torque?
