Ford India Upgrades Figo

Ford India has upgraded the Figo with additional features. The American automaker has added a new variant EXI (O), taking the total variants number of the Figo to ten. This new variant get Bluetooth audio system, whereas the ZXI variant now gets tilt steering and USB port for the audio system. However, the ZXi variant loses driver seat height adjuster. The Titanium variant of the Figo gets both new features of the ZXi along with alloy wheels. The price hike on the ZXi variant is Rs. 6000/- while the Titanium variant is now dearer by Rs. 17,200/- Although the Figo upgrade has made the car dearer by a few thousand rupees, we feel the additional equipment comes at a bargain. OEM alloy wheels for Rs. 11,000/- is quite a steal, actually!
