

Published based on GM & Reva Join Hands To Make Electric Cars

GM & Reva Join Hands To Make Electric Cars

General Motors India is partnering with Bangalore-based Reva to develop and produce electric vehicles for the Indian market. The initiative by GM is in line with government objectives to reduce fossil fuel dependence. Both the companies have already started the feasibility study of GM's vehicle platforms to produce electric cars and are expected to announce the details shortly.

You can also find this article published on GM & Reva Join Hands To Make Electric Cars, and on the tag pages GM.