Hyundai i10 Facelift Launch On 23rd September

Hyundai India will officially launch the i10 facelift on the 23rd of this month. What is significant is the car debuts in our country before it hits the stands at the Paris Motor Show at the end of the month. The Kappa engine will now feature variable valve timing assisting in better low end drama as well as lesser fuel consumption. Power is expected to get a boost of 2 PS (not really significant but welcome none the less). Other than the addition of VTT, the i10 will also get a cosmetic touch up as can be seen in the pictures below.
