

Published based on No i10 For U.S

No i10 For U.S

Hyundai was planning to sell the i10 in the U.S market but its highly unlikely they will sell there. Though buyers in the U.S are looking towards smaller and more efficient cars, the i10 is too small a hatch for the American markets.

However Hyundai is considering bringing the i20 and the i30 to the U.S markets. The i20 is being unveiled at the Paris Motor Show, and will be made exclusively at Hyundai's factory in India. It will go on sale in India and Europe by the end of the year.

You can also find this article published on No i10 For U.S., and on the tag pages Hyundai i10.