

Published based on Verito Goes Electric, Mahindra Expo Plans Revealed

Verito Goes Electric, Mahindra Expo Plans Revealed

Mahindra has revealed its plans for the 2012 Auto Expo. The company will showcase its complete range including vehicles from Mahindra, REVA and Ssangyong stable. Mahindra 2 Wheelers will be present too and so will be Mahindra Navistar heavy vehicles. This will be the first time Ssangyong vehicles will be officially showcased in India. The Rexton and Korando E are the vehicles which Mahindra will showcase from Ssangyong, with their launch scheduled for sometime later in the year. The theme for the Expo for Mahindra will be environment friendly vehicles and hence the company plans to showcase the Verito electric vehicle, which naturally borrows technology from REVA. Also on display will be the Reva NXR which too will be launched in India in 2012. Mahindra will also display the Thar, Xylo, Scorpio and XUV500.

"The Delhi Auto Expo is the perfect platform to showcase Mahindra's commitment to technological advancements and innovative automotive solutions that are showcased in our gamut of vehicles from two wheelers to heavy trucks. Our eco-friendly vehicles are proof of our commitment to a cleaner environment, fuel efficiency and emphasis on customer satisfaction. Mahindra's Sustainable Mobility Solutions illustrate our commitment to the research, product development and advancement of the most cutting-edge technologies to bring about a cleaner and greener tomorrow," Dr Pawan Goenka, President, Automotive and Farm Equipment Sectors, Mahindra, said.

MotorBeam.com

You can also find this article published on Verito Goes Electric, Mahindra Expo Plans Revealed, and on the tag pages 2012 Auto Expo, Mahindra.