

Published based on New Suzuki Swift Spied Again

New Suzuki Swift Spied Again

The Suzuki Swift was launched worldwide in 2005 and a replacement is due in 2010. With cars in the B segment becoming bigger, Suzuki doesn't want to stay behind. The 2010 Suzuki Swift was spied yet again undergoing testing but this time on the road. The car surely looks bigger with huge rear view mirrors. We can't really say much yet and will have to wait till further information surfaces.

Source - Autovandaag

You can also find this article published on New Suzuki Swift Spied Again, and on the tag pages Maruti Swift.