Suzuki Swift Sports Showcased At Frankfurt

Swift lovers in India got a first real upgrade on the Swift just recently after half a decade. The old car was started to look dated in front of the new competitors which were based on a more futuristic design concept. On the international front Swift has showcased the Swift S Concept last time at Geneva and at Frankfurt this year Suzuki has showcased the Swift Sport finally. Fans all over the world were early waiting for the production version of the Swift S Concept and here it is finally. Smaller than the original Swift, this one comes in a two door version and packs 134 horsepower's along with 160 Nm of torque, the M16A petrol engine is mated to a 6 speed manual gearbox and the car is a front wheel drive.

Since it's a Sport version the suspensions are stiffer and there is an aggressive stance to the car. The Sport Swift wears 17 inch low profile tyres fixed with some neat wheels. In the inside you will find sporty seats with high quality fit and finish also the five-dial meter cluster that combines easy legibility with an uncluttered look. Speaking about safety this car is 5 star rated for Euro NCAP and has seven airbags as standard. Also there is EPS, EBD, ABS. Suzuki plans to launch the new Swift Sport in a growing number of countries, beginning this October, with sales launch in the UK from early next year. We hope Suzuki plans the Sports Swift for India, Even though it is petrol there are enough Swift fans in India who will willingly buy this car.
