

Published based on Mercedes India To Launch GL-Class

Mercedes India To Launch GL-Class

Mercedes-Benz will launch the GL-Class at the 2010 Auto Expo. The crossover SUV which uses the M-Class's unibody architecture is bigger than the M-Class and will take the fight to the Audi Q7 in the premium SUV segment after the M-Class failed to make an impression. Powered by a 268 horsepower, 3.5 liter V6 engine, the 2010 GLK 350 showcases bold exterior design, generous cargo capacity and will be available with 4MATIC all wheel drive. Riding on standard 19 inch 10 spoke wheels with 235/50 tires, the GLK features a 108.5-inch wheelbase and boasts unique design language.

You can also find this article published on Mercedes India To Launch GL-Class, and on the tag pages Mercedes GL Class.