Hindustan Motors (HM) is planning to launch a niche vehicle from Mitsubishi Motors stable soon. The new car is likely to be along the lines of a James Bond like automobile and is expected to fire up Mitsubishi Motors' portfolio in India. Now we really don't think any car in Mitsubishi's stable is even close to the Aston Martin or are they referring to the Ford Ka?

"We are gearing up for the launch of a niche vehicle, hopefully, within this year, for which we are awaiting requisite homologation from ARAI (Automotive Research Association of India)," HM's managing director R Santhanam said.
