

Published based on Mitsubishi To Shut Ralliart Division

Mitsubishi To Shut Ralliart Division

Mitsubishi is scaling down activities of its Ralliart division after more than 25 years of high performance tuning and development. The company is blaming the sudden change of economy for the wind up as the business circumstances surrounding Ralliart has become worse. Ralliart will also end all support to motorsport customers (Support to the participation, Technical Support, and Awarding of Mitsubishi/Ralliart Driver of the Year), new planning, development and merchandise of Ralliart products and information of new products and dispatching motorsport information.

You can also find this article published on Mitsubishi To Shut Ralliart Division, and on the tag pages Mitsubishi.