Desperate times indeed call for desperate measures and the new Chrome Edition of the Mitsubishi Outlander is just that. With sales dropping faster than most people can blink, HM-Mitsubishi have launched the limited Edition Chrome Outlander which gets protective side mouldings, side airdam, rear spoiler, blue coloured floor illumination, chrome plated outside rear view mirrors and a roof mounted DVD player with screen. The Mitsubishi Outlander is not a bad vehicle at all but is powered by a petrol engine, which most people prefer to avoid. We are not certain what is stopping the Japanese automaker from launching a diesel motor in the Outlander? Perhaps, HM!
