Have you heard about the Volkswagen Bus GTi? Well Volkswagen parts specialist Just Kampers has teamed up with artist Andy Saunders to produce the World's Lowest VW Bus, also called the Camper.

The 3 foot (1 meter) tall VW Bus named Vancake, is fully road legal and was created by Saunders and his team in just three days at Bug Jam festival in the UK at Santa Pod Raceway. Not only have they lowered the roof, the team also applied a custom paint job and an electric sunroof. The electric sunroof seems to be there for entry and exit, as the doors seem missing. Oh wait, there is no space for the doors.
