On Test Skoda Fabia Spied

Skoda is testing a new Fabia in Mumbai. Although it is unclear on what this car features, there are high chances of Volkswagen testing the upcoming Polo bound 1500 cc diesel engine in the Fabia. Also, the German automaker could be testing TSI engines but this is still a speculation. We feel Skoda might be launching a facelift of the Fabia soon and the car could feature addition of new features such as a new audio system and steering mounted audio controls. Newly designed alloy wheels are very apparent in these spy pictures, which makes us believe, this is just a minor upgrade to the Fabia line.
