Skoda unveiled the Yeti SUV at the Geneva Motor Show and the vehicle will be launched in the European market in the next few months with a 1.2 litre petrol engine and a 2.0 litre diesel engine. For the Indian market, Yeti's engine capacity would be tweaked and could come with a 1.8 litre petrol engine, Skoda will launch the Yeti in India at the 2010 Delhi Auto Expo.

"We are currently conducting tests on Yeti to see its suitability for India. We want to bring the car to India. However, the car will be launched in India only after it is introduced in Europe," SkodaAuto India Pvt Ltd Managing Director Karsten Bogun told the media at the Geneva Motor Show.
