

Published based on Tata Indica Vista Limited Edition Pictorial Review

Tata Indica Vista Limited Edition Pictorial Review

The new Tata Indica Vista is exceptional value for money. Infact it has even won the car of the year award. Tata recently launched the limited edition Indica Vista to celebrate the Indica's 10th anniversary and we must admit this limited edition Indica seems like a waste of time and energy.

Tata could have given the Vista a different look compared to the old Indica, specially at the rear. White is not available for the Indica Vista and thus Tata Motors have painted the limited edition in white. The roof is black, inspired by BMW's Mini. The alloys don't look any great and we are not suprised that Tata has posted their worse loss in a decade after designing such a limited edition version of their best selling car. Any average joe can do a better job in their back garage making this limited edition really limited in terms of sales.

You can also find this article published on Tata Indica Vista Limited Edition Pictorial Review, and on the tag pages Tata Indica Vista.