Tata Motors Celebrates 4 Lakh Sedan Milestone

Tata Motors is celebrating the sale of 4 lakh sedans in the country. The company launched its first sedan, the Indigo, way back in 2002. Over the years we have seen a lot of variants on the Indigo platform in the form of notchbacks, limousines and station wagons. The company has also used a lot of engines in its cars but post the Fiat joint venture, have settled for the awesome motors from Fiat Powertrain Technologies. Celebrating the 4 lakh sedan roll-out milestone, Tata is running a competition, wherein new Manza owners get a chance to visit France. Shouldn't Renault be using such a promotion?
