

Published based on Tata To Launch Manza Celebration Edition

Tata To Launch Manza Celebration Edition

With festive season is around corner every car maker wants to impress the buyer by wrapping their existing product in a new avatar by either giving some additional features. Maruti Suzuki has done it with almost all of their best selling hatchbacks with the Wagon R Freedom edition and so on, Volkswagen did the same treatment on the Polo and Vento by introducing the Breeze edition. Now Tata Motors is going to do the same by introducing Manza Celebration Edition.

Nothing out of the box will be seen in the Celebration Edition apart from reverse sensors and leather upholstery along with black interiors. Tata is going to position the Celebration Edition above the Manza Elan which is currently the top end model in the Manza family. The Celebration Edition will be sharing most of the features with the Manza Elan apart from the Celebration Edition badges. The Engines are also expected to be the same, talking about the pricing Tata Motors may not increase the price and will keep it the same as it is for the top end Elan model.

You can also find this article published on Tata To Launch Manza Celebration Edition, and on the tag pages Tata Indigo.