

Published based on Another Day, Another Nano, Another Fire

Another Day, Another Nano, Another Fire

Tata Motors may be busy celebrating the Nano's birthday but a brand new Tata Nano caught fire yet again. The incident took place near Boriyavi village on National Highway 8, when a fleet of eleven Nano cars was being driven to a dealer in Ahmadabad to be delivered in Vadodara. This is second such instance in recent days (read the other one here). One of the Nano cars, which was in the middle the fleet, caught fire in its rear portion. Thankfully, the driver of the car is safe.

You can also find this article published on Another Day, Another Nano, Another Fire, and on the tag pages Tata Nano.