2010 Toyota Camry

Toyota has unveiled the 2010 Toyota Camry at the Detroit Auto Show. Not much to differentiate the current Camry with the new one except a few engineering and design tweaks. On the outside, the 2010 Camry receives a new front bumper with enlarged air intakes, updated headlamps and a set of restyled taillights. On the inside Toyota has changed the audio system a bit. Nothing much, but we expect Toyota to get the new version in India soon.
