Facelifted Toyota Prado To Grace Indian Roads Soon

Toyota has just unveiled the 2010 Land Cruiser Prado at the ongoing Frankfurt Motor Show and its coming to Indian shores sooner than we expected. Toyota India currently sells the Prado as a CBU leading to dismal sales. However the real chink in the Prado's armour is its petrol powerplant and Toyota might just plonk in the diesel engine from the Fortuner. As always a slight price hike is expected.
