

Published based on F1 Fever Hits India As First Indian GP Nears

F1 Fever Hits India As First Indian GP Nears

The maiden India Grand Prix is just 11 days away and the enthusiasm is starting to become electric already. Red Bull Racing has conducted two activities already to showcase its F1 car to the masses, while Buddh International Circuit has been inaugurated with Neel Jani taking the wheel of his Formula 1 Red Bull car, hitting a speed of 320 kmph on the longest stretch. Now no company wants to miss this opportunity to promote itself and are keen to make the most of the upcoming Formula 1 race. Thus Ferrari and Force India have parked their Formula 1 cars at the Delhi International Airport, catching a lot of eye candy. Visitors are gawking at the cars with most of them wanting to get a snap with the Ferrari F150th Italia.

[singlepic id= 7799 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7800 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7801 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7802 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7803 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7804 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7805 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7806 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7807 w=540 h=375 float=center]
[singlepic id= 7808 w=540 h=375 float=center]

Thanks for sending us the pictures Nidhi Raikundlia.

You can also find this article published on F1 Fever Hits India As First Indian GP Nears, and on the tag pages F1.